ACTIVITIES

Things are really "picking up" around school. Students seem to be adapting themselves to the routine thus enabling the teachers to get various activities started. One outstanding example of rapid progress is the Yo-Hi annual under the sponsorship of Miss Isaacson.

During the week of September 21, the "big wheels"—(once known as the seniors) had their class pictures taken. This must have been quite a task, although everything was done quietly. It took five days to get thirty students photographed.

Besides this all important step, the annual staff was appointed:

- Editor—Inez Mattson
- Asst. Editor—Barry Walsh,
Art Crooks
- Business Manager—
Art Crooks
- Senior Class Editor—
Pat Keegan
Bill Buhmann
- Junior Class Editor—
Carolyn Harada
Gail Wada
Faline Flanigan
- Sophomore Class Ed.—
Vicki Lair
Francis Say
- Freshmen Class Ed.—
Jean Wallis
Bonnie Schmale
- Photographers—
John Godfrey
Michael Weidemann
Jerry Davis
- Typists—Margo Jackson
Kathy Laverty

CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN

Out of thirty girls who competed this year for cheerleading, eight girls and two alternates were chosen to represent our school.

Cyndy Magnuson (senior) is our only returning cheerleader.

Others selected were Jean Pressey and Jo Ann Walker (seniors), Margy Hartman, Freddie Flyod, Paula Murphy, Sylvia Muir, (juniors) and Kala Uyeoka (sophomore).

Carole Vann and D.D. Massengale were chosen as alternates.

The judging took place Friday, September 11, during the lunch hour. The judges were Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Ikeda, Miss Sattre, Miss Isaacson, and Miss Vines, the cheerleaders sponser.

Congratulations to all the lucky girls.

- Eleanor Buhmann—editor
- Sandy Poole
- Sheila Keegan
- Martha Harpe
- Anna Laura White
- Activities Staff—
Marcheta De Fries
Jean Collins
Jackie Cornelison
Leslie Stanczyk
- Sports Staff—Dick Filley
Don Wood
Riley Shamburger
Mike Scarborough

If nothing else, the annual should at least put up a good front with so many people

The new alternates are D. D. Massengale and Carol Vann.

J.R.C. NEWS

The Junior Red Cross Council is composed of Junior members selected by their fellow members to represent them in the planning and directing of their Red Cross program. The teacher-sponser is the faculty advisor of the group.

Qualifications of Junior Red Cross Council Members—

1. A member of the Junior Red Cross.
2. A member of the class section he or she represents.
3. Dependability, sincerity, and trustworthiness.
4. Ability to work with the group and the teachers well.
5. Assume responsibility well, does not shirk his job.
6. Is not already overworked with other jobs.
7. Good judgment.
8. Leadership.
9. Thinks and plans well.
10. He should be able to get the cooperation of the group.

Junior Class Bake Sale

The Junior Class sponsored its first bake sale on September 11, during the noon hour. Cookies, brownies, cupcakes, and fudge were sold. The $25 collected was given to the Junior Class Prom funds, so the Junior Class can sponsor a Prom that is worthy to present to the "towering seniors."

SPACE FOR SALE

DIME-A-LINE

Come to room C-123 during home-room with your money and your ad.

Daffynishion: A beauty shop is where men are rare and women are well done.

working on it. One thing is certain—as long as the staff continues to be as industrious as they are now, the annual will surely be another fabulous success!!!

It's All Yours!

Support your newspaper! The staff doesn't put out the Echoes for their own entertainment or profit. If you have heard that there was quite a sum of money left over from last year, you may be interested to know that it all went back into this year's first issue. A school paper should be of the students, by the students, and for the students, but not rejected or ignored by them. The way to get your name in the paper is definitely not by making wisecracks when they are being sold. If you are such a publicity hound, why not place an advertisement to sell yourself? $1 a word, you're surely worth it.

KULH—MAN—KULH

Yo-Hi's advanced math teacher Mrs. Kulhman had to do some figuring herself to find that she has been in Japan for five years. She visited the states in 1955 but was soon back in Japan.

Mrs. Kulhman was born in Niantic, Connecticut but claims Wisconsin as her home.

She went to Connecticut Woman's College in New London. Since then, her time has been spent as a teacher and housewife.

Mrs. Kulhman taught at Narimasu last year. She thinks the teenagers at Yo-Hi are fine. Wonder what her opinion is of the Narimasu kids????

The call goes out "BEAT NARIMASU."

Daffynition: Nothing—a balloon with the skin off.

National Honor Society

Attention all juniors and seniors! For those of you who are interested, the National Honor Society will be organized at the end of the first semester. DON'T (and I emphasize the word don't) say, "Oh that's a long way off. I'll have plenty of time."

Members are chosen by Yo-Hi's faculty and are judged on scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Not only must you maintain a "B" average or better for the entire first semester, but you must also be a respected member of your class and willing to do a great deal for Yo-Hi.

During the final six weeks grading period new members are selected and inducted into the Society. (In some cases these inductions may be held twice a year.) If you are transferred to another school, your membership to the Society goes with you to that school.

If you are chosen, you should feel not only honored, but also proud that you attained membership through hard work. If you are not chosen, you won't bear a grudge as no doubt you will be of better character than before—if you really tried. So get on your horse and hit the trail to membership in the National Honor Society.

O—Oops! Schooldays include sweethearts and holding hands—got to watch for teachers though!

C—Cheerleaders—We've really got a swell group of 'em this year. They're bound to boost school spirit at the games.

T—Themes! Tests! Teachers? Which is the worst of these necessary evils?

O—Orators in the making. Class elections coming up; speeches to listen to, or make—then voting. Decisions, decisions, decisions!

B—B-r-o-t-h-e-r! Better duck! The fur flies fast and furious between these two! No names—but you can't miss his red hair and her fun-loving ways.

E—Etai!! All this homework really hurts. Isn't there a happy medium to be reached between students and teachers? Never!!!

R—Run! Run for that lunch line, your locker on the top floor, the next class. Cheer-up kid—it's not as bad as you think!

YO-HI YENS

We're back to school with all kinds of sundresses. The girls also seems to be wearing sandals and artificial flowers to set off the colorful dresses. As for the boys—nothing spectacular except that they seem to be remembering their belts!

Have you noticed some girls in wool skirts? So

THE THREE R'S—

RAH, RAH, RAH

What's wrong with our student body? Our three R's are lacking. Sure, we are intelligent and courteous for the most part. But what happened to everyone's pep and school spirit? It seems to me that everyone is getting sick of the complaining about school spirit, so why don't we do something when the Pep Club is organized? Everyone should join. Everyone should go to games. Of course there are the old excuses, "I've just got to see that show instead of the game," or "I don't like football." These are examples of school spirit before games.

There are a few people with spirit and these few run Yo-Hi's activities. Why can't we all help to raise the three R's around school? The more school spirit the student body has, the more activities we can have.

If we are going to beat Narimasu or any other school this year, we will not only need a good team but a better turnout at the games. Spirit is not just winning. To be a good loser we have to back our team all the way.

If you've gotten this far no doubt you're saying to yourself, "What a corny story. Can't they ever think of anything else besides school spirit?" As long as our school spirit is so low some idiot like me will keep on writing about it and hoping someone will latch onto the three R's.

By the November issue of the Echoes I want to see IMPROVEMENT.

soon? Let's leave winter alone until wool is absolutely necessary!

News Flash!—from state side fashions: hemlines are at the knee this year, no below as most of us here have ours.

Seventeen predicts plaids, skirts and bulky-knit sweaters with argyles again. However, what the fashion will be here, no one can tell!!

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Do you know your Seniors? In the Senior Spotlight this month we have four outstanding seniors we would like to help you know better.

Our first Senior is Art Crooks. Although he was born in Boston, Massachusetts, he claims Long Island, New York as his home. After graduating this year he will go on to college on the East Coast. Scholastically Art has proven himself way above average by his membership in the National Honor Society.

This year he is the assistant editor of the annual. Give him time and he will soon be in other activities for the betterment of Yo-Hi.

In his free time Art plays basketball and indulges himself in certain after dark activities at Yokosuka.

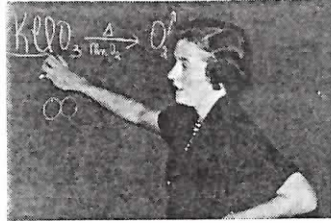

Flash a plate of spaghetti or hamburgers in front of Art and you can be sure his eyes will light up.

Next is Jean Pressey, also known as Hot Bomb, Red, Press, or Elsa, who is from Alexandria, Virginia. She will be going to Stanford after graduating from Yo-Hi. Although she hasn't even been here a year, Jean is off to a good start as a cheerleader and news editor of our newspaper. Her hope for Yo-Hi is winning the basketball tournament this year.

Jean's comment to french fries or curry would be, "Hot, hot!" Ask her about her favorite pastime of riding the bus between Yokohama and Yokosuka and she would blurt out, "Spastic!"

Inez Mattson, another one of our promising Seniors, is from Honolulu, Hawaii. After graduating she plans to attend the University of Hawaii and major in Social Science or Meteorology.

Last year Inez worked hard on the Junior class activities, and we Seniors hope she will do the same for us and the school this year. One thing she would do for Yo-Hi, if she could, is to see that it

A PERT MISS FROM L.S.U.

Miss Fairchild has lived in Japan for two years and thinks it wonderful. She doesn't dig our popular singers but likes Japanese songs and has several records of them. (Maybe that's where she gets all the big words she uses in Chemistry and Biology).

She is very impressed with the students of Yo-Hi and when she can pull herself away from them, she likes to play golf and tennis.

Born in Franklin, Louisiana, she boasts that she went to L.S.U. where football is at a peak.

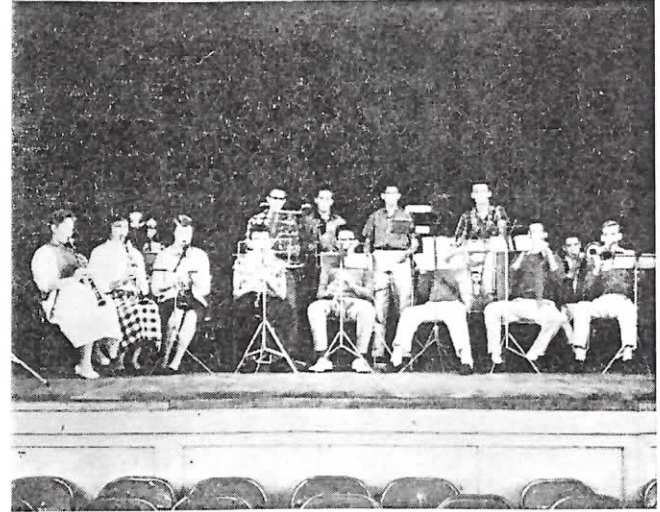

Even though she has been in Cuba and Mexico, Miss Fairchild finds the Japanese dancing more fascinating than the Mexican Hat Dance.

stays "Yo-Hi." This year Inez happily took over the job of editor of the annual. She became a member of the National Honor Society last year.

Inez's favorite saying is "Shut your big mouth, Kathy!" She is friendly to all except people who think the world revolve around them, and Kathy when she's got her big mouth open. Her likes are Pizza, Shashimi, swimming, and pool.

The last Senior in the spot-light is Jack Lichte. You can't miss him if you watch where you step. He's the blond one from Albuquerque, New Mexico. If he graduates he will either go to Florida College or be a "raunchy bum." This year Jack is one of our football players. Along with swimming, Jack's favorite sport is football.

His advice to all under classmen, except little kids, people who borrow money, and "D", is "Watch out for them there gravel trucks!"

The band plays the Alama Mater.

EXPOSÉ LE FACTOS

This is your know all, see all, hear all, you all! Well, here it is hot off the old grapevine. Is it true that Friday night after the Yamato game a certain group of girls sat concentrating on hearing little table knocks for three consecutive hours? Do you believe it?

Surprise! Yep, she really was surprised, huh? Could this have been the same surprise party that a certain "ghost" interrupted? Were certain people sent bombing over the hedge to trap the "ghost" alias old shirt on the clothesline? Sounds like the very same party.

Do we have a traitor among us? One math and physics teacher, commonly known as Benedict Arnold, seems completely for (pardon the expression) Narimasu. What do we do in cases like this? Any ideas?

Has the ex-manager of the football team turned out to be a half-back, and has an ex-half-back turned out to be a manager? Pretty complicated switch.

Well we almost had a fabulous touchdown, and someone we'll call "A" fumbles. Why? It was a big choice, but it seems he either had to drop the ball or his pants.

This is all the news for right now gang, but I'll be back next time with some very revealing information about people, we all know.

DEVILS TROUNCE WARRIORS, WIN OPENER

After three weeks of rigorous training and coaching, the Yo-Hi Red Devils played their first game last Friday, Sept. 18. The Red Devils got off to a good start by beating the Yamato 'High Warriors 19-0. The game started promptly at 2:00 o'clock on a beautiful day with both teams looking for their victory. In the first half the Red Devils dominated the ball, but were unable to score because of the enormous amount of penalties called against them, so the first half ended in a 0-0 stalemate. The Yo-Hi Red Devils came on the field in the second half, after a half time pep talk by coaches Radford and Fitzpatrick, with a new out look on life. The third quarter started and it proved that the second half was going to be a different ball game than the first half. The Red Devils were on the move, and tailback Ron Krausse carried the ball over for Yo-Hi's first T.D. of the day. Minutes later Yo-Hi was on the defenders goal line again with halfback Rod Atteberry carrying the ball across this time for the second T.D. In the last quarter "Big" Ed Mach recovered a Yamato fumble and ran it all the way for the clincher, and Ron Krausse topped it off by passing to Lars Barker for

Girls Intramural Sports

Archery was the first sport taken up this year in girls intramural sports, sponsored by Miss Vines. Other sports to be taken up during the years are tennis, basketball, badminton, volleyball, softball and golf, if time permits. Any girl who wants to participate may come during lunch hour on Monday thru Thursday. No girl is required to become a member; she may just come for the sport she likes.

A tournament will be held for each sport. The point system for the letter will not be used this year; letters will be awarded to the winners of the tournaments.

Games will be played with the Japanese schools and teams will be chosen for the games. The teams may also play with the other American high schools.

the extra point. The gun fired and the game ended with the shutout score of 19-0 in favor of the Yo-Hi Red Devils.

Father: "About two cars and a half."
