

Being Ernest

"The Importance of Being Ernest" will be presented by the Yokosuka Little Theater. This comedy by Oscar Wilde will be presented at the Benny Decker Theater on October 22, 24, 25 at 8:30 P. M.

This play is about British society during the latter part of the 19th century. The cast includes nine characters, one being Nance Brannan, a senior at Yo-Hi this year. This is a play you won't want to miss. Come to the Benny Decker Theater, enjoy a fine play, and show your support for a talented Yo-Hian!

Elton Johns "Echoes" Staff

Elton John's concert, performed on October 6th at the Shibuya Kokaido, will be presented as a one hour special on TV. The program will contain many of the highlights of the concert. This show will be presented on October 27th 10:30 P.M. to 11:30 P.M. It will be on Channel 12. To all of those who went to his concert (or concerts as the case may be), and those who unfortunately didn't, this special should be something to look forward to.

New Girls!

The first influx of new people has started this month. The "Echoes" staff has interviewed two of the most recent arrivals from Virginia. They are Alisa Felt and Beverli Shick. They seem to be adjusting to Japan pretty well, but they do miss the "world"! Both girls are residents of Yokosuka. Beverli lives in J-22 and Alisa will move to "A" Street soon. They are both seniors and plan to leave for college in the States next summer.

There will be some more people coming in next week. Everyone make an effort to meet them.

Thieves' Carnival

The drama department of Yo-Hi will present this year's all-school play, "Thieves' Carnival," shortly before the school moves to Yokosuka.

The play, by Jean Anouilh, is best described as a comedy-romance. The cast includes Mike Spencer as Peterbono, The head thief, Dale Burfield as Hector, Peterbono's accomplice, and Walter Wire as Gustave, an apprentice thief. Max Parker is playing Lord Edgar with Melanie Flanders as his wife, Lady Rurf. The female leads are Nance Brannan as Juliette and Kate Langley as Eva.

At this writing, there is no one for the part of Dupont Dufort, Sr. but Dupont Dufort, Jr. is played by Harry Skirm. Some minor parts are filled by Colleen Cooney and Diane Silverthorn.

So far, the play seems to be going very well. Everyone concerned is doing his best to put on one of the best all-school plays in Yo-Hi's history. See it!

HUMOR & HUMAN INTEREST

WHERE TOKYO IT'S AT

Ever get tired of just hanging around the cafe or NEX area? The world's largest city is just an hour away. Tokyo is full of things to do and see, and, even if you can't speak the language, you can always find someone to help you communicate. Trains are a reliable and inexpensive (180-200 yen) means of getting there, as you will never find yourself in a traffic jam or running out of cash.

The Ginza is a favorite counterpart of the "Cho" but has more variety and price ranges. An interesting addition to the Ginza is a "McDonald's" hamburger shop, which is one block from the Tokyo USO. Prices are not bad as you will pay 80 yen for a hamburger, which surprisingly looks, smells, and tastes like the real thing. The "Big Mac" is 200 yen and those fantastic milk shakes are 150 yen. Just like back home, you must stand outside and rap with your buddy, who is saving a bit of elbow room. For those who are less inclined to shop, you can find amusement parks, zoos, and concerts to wander through. For more ideas, stop by the USO, which is also on the Ginza, and maybe you can pick up token tickets and get in free.

Happiness is what you make it, so get out there and see what's going on in Japan and you may find Japan is not such a bummer after all. If you want fun and adventure experience those fabled six o'clock rush hours.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES

The Baltimore Orioles, who are first place holders in the AL and currently playing in the World Series, will be coming to Tokyo to play seventeen exhibition games. They will play five games scheduled the 23rd and 24th of October and November 3rd, 6th, and 7th. These games will be at Koraku-en Stadium in Tokyo. Admission for reserved seats 1,300 yen, 2,200 yen, 2,800 yen.

Sickest Joke Of The Week

There was a boy who wanted to go to school but his mother said he didn't know any words so he couldn't go until he did. So he went and watched T.V. and learned three words: hot dog, Lone Ranger, and trashcan. Then he told his mother and she said he could go to school. So he went to school and the teacher asked the boy what his name was and he said, "Lone Ranger." She asked where he lived, and he said "Trashcan." The teacher said "Do you want to see the principal?" and he said, "Hotdog!"

Joke of The Week

Once there lived two boys named Towards and Away. The father decided to take them fishing. This was a fishing family and so were all the neighbors. As they were fishing, Towards got a bite on his line and it was a big one. By this time Away had a bite on his line, too. Well, as Towards started to reel in his line a big green fish jumped out of the water and ate Towards. Then another fish jumped out and ate Away, a fish too ugly to describe.

By this time the Mother of the family was waiting, and was wondering why they were so late. Then over the hill she saw her husband. When he got home she asked where Towards and Away were. He replied "A great big green fish ate Towards." She said, "Oh, that's terrible!" He said, "That's nothing, you should have seen the one that got Away."

Josephine Cool Student Savings

1. Sally Mays- "Dang me, dang me!"
2. Greg Valdez- "Now, what brought all that on?"
3. Cheryl Robinson- "Boys are a hassel."
4. Coni Nabors- "Hey, have you seen Red Afro?"
5. T. McFarling- "Eat a burrito."
6. Dede Dempsey- "Like wow, man! I'm Josephine chick-chick Cool."
7. Mike Slater- "Eat a big one."
8. Stephanie Ferretti- "Hey man, what's happening?"
9. Peggy Jackson- "I'll see y'all later."
10. George Peterson- "Gimme a light."
11. Tiffany Craig- "Knock you up against the wall!"

Hey, Jude, how's Joey?... C. Stan and M.S.?... John Yakubowsky coming back in 4 weeks!... Jeri and Jon!... Hey, Char., what's this about your wrist?... Hey, Leslie M., heard ya like Barnes!... What's coming off between K.C. and B.H.?... Anyone get kicked off 8-B lately?... Hey, by the way, when's the next bomb scare?... How's typing coming along, Bryan?... ## Carnations and Onions

Once again, the "Echoes" intrepidly presents Carnations and Onions? Carnations to our Columbus Day holiday. Onions to the people who didn't yell at the pep assembly. Carnations to the tennis team for their fantastic victory over Johnson. Onions to two hour bus rides at 5:40 a.m. Carnations to the football team for trying their best for Yo-Hi. Onions to the rainy weather this week.

EATING IN YOKOSUKA?

The Snack Bar, the Malt Shop, and Barracks "C" are the main places where the service-men stationed in Yokosuka go when they have breaks are off for lunch. During these times the Yokosuka Snack Bar, Malt Shop and the Barracks "C" bowling alley are jammed packed with sailors and marines, not to mention civilians who drop in for a cup of coffee.

When the School moves down to Yokosuka next month, about half of the student body will either go to the Snack Bar or the Malt Shop when they have either a free period or lunch.

The point we're trying to get across is if any number of ships come in, most of the sailors who get liberty will go to the Snack Bar to eat before they do anything else. So if this happens where will the students eat on their lunch hour? Maybe some sympathetic Yokosuka students will ask some poor Yokohama student to come home with him for lunch. Maybe the new school will have a bigger and better student snack bar. Maybe the Yokohama students will bring their lunches (but they probably would eat them on the bus ride to Yokosuka).

We would appreciate any suggestions the student body might like to offer. Please voice your solutions to this upcoming problem.

There are a lot of maybe's in this situation, but now is the time to think about this. Later might be too late!

GUM

Here's a problem that all Yo-Hians face two or three times a day: "What do you do with your gum once the taste is gone?"

- Marcus Johns: I don't chew gum.
- Greg Brown: I throw it to the bugs on the ground.
- Mike Tucker: Keep chewing it for practice.
- Lance Gailley: Stick it under the desk.
- Bill Penney: I give it to someone else.
- Mark Carrion: I don't chew gum.
- Bob West: Why? Do you want it?
- Mindy McKenzie: Chew it for a while, then throw it away.
- Chrissy Stanton: Throw it away! Duh.
- Jeri Welch: Give it to Jon.

Record Review

The Album Indian Reservation by the Raiders has been out for some time now, and may be the album to bring them back into the Top Ten. "Indian Reservation" made it to the top of the singles charts and with the songs they've chosen for this LP, the chances of it reaching the top of the charts are very good. Most of them have messages like "Eve of Destruction" and "Shape of Things to Come." Mark produced the album and you'll dig "The Turkey" written by Mark.

Elton John has an album called "11-17-70." You've heard all these Elton John tunes before, so if you're planning to buy the album, check over your other records carefully to avoid duplication. Another new album by Elton John is called "Friends!" This is the soundtrack of one of the heaviest movies to be out in ages. Elton's music is quite nice with a couple of good vocals thrown in.

Stephen Stills has a new record out. Some of the material will be familiar to you like "Change Partners" but much of it is new and Stephen's songs echo what's happening in our society. "Relaxing Town" sings of liberal talk about injustice to racial minorities. This album is definitely good. Listen to it in the PX today.

Strange, eerie.... Visions of volcanic eruptions, strange monsters of the skies, and the depth and blackness of infinite space. Emerson Lake and Palmer have produced an album that grips the mind and jolts the soul. See if you can dig it!

Editorial Page

Well, the 6th week of school is over and it seems like the school is finally beginning to move. Our Student Council has finally been elected. They have a big job to do. They have to make up all the time they have wasted so far.

Usually, by this time of year, most of the student governments have already been elected and are in full swing. But due to the slowness of the Student Council election, the class councils are still unorganized. It seems like the administration is either inefficient or apathetic.

For example, the Junior Class has to raise a huge sum of money for the Junior-Senior prom, but because elections are so late they are unorganized and confused.

The Senior Class has a problem too. Their Halloween show is due in a couple of weeks, but at the time this article is being written, there is no class council. Zama had elections last year and is already in full swing. Why not us?

SON OF LIBERTY

Last week at the Student Council assembly, Mr. Spaulding said something that bothered us a bit. He claimed that some of the candidates did not meet the requirements for office. He said that two of these requirements were a certain grade average and a certain year in school for certain offices. There's nothing wrong with these requirements. They are stated in the constitution. But then he went on to say that if we, the student body, voted for certain candidates and these candidates were elected, then, we, the student body, were amending the constitution.

But Article XI of the constitution of the Student Council, Nile C. Kinnick High School, says something else: "The constitution may be amended by a majority vote of the entire student body, provided that the amendment has been first approved by the Student Council, the Student Council advisor, and the principal. The proposed amendment must be read at two regular Student Council meetings. The vote shall be taken following the second reading in the Student Council after which the proposed amendment shall be submitted to the student body." In other words, there is a formal way of amending our constitution. Not the way we were supposedly doing it.

Then, to add insult to injury, we weren't even told which candidates didn't meet the requirements. We couldn't reject the person even if we wanted to, because we didn't know who they were!

We, the student body, shouldn't have to sit back and take what the administration dictates. The President of the United States cannot amend the constitution of the United States of America just because he wants to. There is a certain form that the President must follow; he just doesn't have that kind of power. The whole amendment was a farce. We were all trapped! We were misled to think that we could change the constitution by just a "sideline election." Even if we were to change it formally as the constitution of the Student Council states, we wouldn't have been able to vote on it, because at that time, there was no Student Council to approve of it (Article XI; Section 1 of the Constitution).

Also it's just one big farce that the constitution provides for a principal and a separate Student Council advisor, but in reality, our principal is our Student Council advisor. We, the student body, must learn to point out when and how our rights are being abused and do something about it!

Read, Heed

This year Yo-Hi will be a school of many changes. The greatest of these is of course the move to Yokosuka. This will involve many administrative policy alterations. With the whole-hearted backing of the student body, our Student Council can give the students a strong and forceful position in tailoring these policies for the benefit of the students.

You have shown your choices for people to lead you. Now they deserve your involvement and interest in them. The effectiveness of the Council will depend on the support and cooperation given them by the student body. By answering their requests and abiding by their agreements you can expect them to represent you.

If their ideas consistently run contrary to the desires of the students, their bargaining position with the administration will be severely damaged. If you do not support them, they cannot support you. Given your interest and cooperation, this will be a year of good changes, for you.

Dear "Echoes": LETTERS
The place that we find most disgusting is the NEX Cafeteria. In the morning if you go there, your stomach, which is supposed to be hungry, turns. In the afternoon is you go there for lunch, you will be knocked over and trampled by the crowd. The crowded condition actually are the least of the problems in the Cafe. For instance, if you are hungry and are interested in good, solid food, you will be highly disappointed. And when you go and try to select something to eat from the counter you will probably think it belongs in the nearest garbage can.

And have you ever eaten the bacon there? It tastes like salted slabs of rocks. And the doughnuts--the bakery must have had a fight with the dough. They also taste like last year's garbage.

And get one more thing--the French fries. When do they make those things? They are so hard and untasty they should be used for ammunition. And in spite of the bad tasting foods the NEX Cafeteria sells, they have the nerve to boost up the prices! When will it stop?

Ptomaine Terry

SPORTS PAGE

Our 1971-1972 sports program will be almost identical to last year's unless some changes are suggested and executed during this semester. This year it's going to take a little more practice for some of the teams because we will have so many new members.

Because we didn't have a J.V. football team everyone who went out for football tried out for Varsity. As a result we have a small and somewhat inexperienced team. But with hard practice and great team effort the team has developed into great competitors.

Most likely we will have both Varsity and J.V. in basketball, wrestling, and track. (These will take place in Yokosuka and we will have access to better facilities.) Baseball will be the same as last year, with only a Varsity team.

Last week we asked the students what they thought of the sports program we have here and what they thought should be added. Many of the guys said they would like to have a self-defense category with sports such as Karate, Judo, and other marshall arts. About a year ago our school had a swimming team. The first time we competed against Chofu and ASIJ we came in third. The second time the teams met, we beat Chofu and came in second place. It would be nice to start a swimming team again.

People have also suggested indoor sports like volleyball, ping-pong, bowling, etc. We believe these sports would be a good thing for Yo-Hi.

Yeah Tennis! "Echoes" Sports

Last Friday our outstanding tennis team won against Johnson. The girls took a clean sweep 3-0, and the boys won 4-1.

Interview with Mr. Rogers

This week, the "Echoes" interviewed one of our football coaches, Mr. Rogers. The following are a few of his off-the-cuff answers:

"E"--Has the team improved much compared to the first practice?

Mr. Rogers--Well, now they put their shoes on the correct feet! No, seriously, they have been working hard and there has been a big improvement. I think that the team will continue to improve.

"E"--What seems to be the team's biggest problem?

Mr. Rogers--The biggest problems have been lack of experience and lack of football know-how.

"E"--What is causing the team's lack of success?

Mr. Rogers--The two majors things I have already stated. Now, hopefully, at mid-season, these can be overcome.

"E"--Is lack of spirit a major problem this year?

Mr. Rogers--It seemed for a while, but now I think that the team has found that playing football is fun.

"E"--Why is the team so small?

Mr. Rogers--In numbers? Mainly because the school is small and also we have a generally apathetic student body towards any extra-curricular activity. In physical stature? Size doesn't matter if you like to hit.

"E"--Do we have the potential to win?

Mr. Rogers--Yes, now that the team has gained experience, all they need is confidence to beat any team in the league.

"E"--Thank-you, Mr. Rogers, for your time.

Mystery Athlete

This week's Mystery Athlete is a 5'9", 175 pound senior from Lake Crystal, Minnesota. He is currently playing guard on the Varsity football team. He participated in J.V. football, wrestling, and track last year. He has two sisters--the older having graduated from Yo-Hi last year, and the younger a junior this year. Our M.A. has been in Japan for almost two years. Can you guess who he is? (If not, see the bottom of this page.)

5th Defeat

Last Friday the Devils, after a hard fought game with Johnson, chalked up their fifth defeat.

Both teams went scoreless for the first half, with YO-HI easily moving the ball through the middle of the line, but failing to produce a sustained drive. The third quarter saw a score but unfortunately it was a Johnson touchdown. After that it was catchup football for YO-HI. Don Roper and Bryan Ching produced many fine gains but the Devil line repeatedly went off-sides, nullifying the plays. Greg Valdez went in and although he threw many fine passes, we could not seem to score and the game ended with the score 6-0, Johnson.

This was probably our most exciting game and the rest promise to be even better. Come out tomorrow and see YO-HI Devils tame the Mustangs at ASIJ!

|       |    |
|-------|----|
| Yo-Hi | 58 |
| ASIJ  | 0  |

Last Friday's home meet with CAJ proved to be the best run yet. CAJ took it all the way. Incidentally, CAJ's winner broke the YO-HI course record by 20 seconds.

What do you do at the last five minutes of class at the end of the day?

Sue Collister- Make my plans for the weekend! Think about Mako.

Diana Genova- Run to the snackbar and stuff my face.

Helen Waters- Think about Yochan.

Wicki Smith- Wait for Sue to tell me so I can go, go, go.

Geni Nabors- Wonder if I'll see S.L. at the cafe.

Pamela Hampton- I usually leave before the bell rings!

Barb Bachus- I wait for the bell so I can run to see K.Y.

Protect Your Locker!

A thing which must be stressed and emphasized time and time again, every year, is... protect your locker! Once you start giving your combination out, even to friends, you're bound to have trouble. Your combination will spread to a person who'll have no qualms about breaking into your locker and taking out anything valuable he finds there.

Perhaps even worse, your combination will reach the ears of a practical joker, and every time you rush to your locker to get out a needed book, you'll find your lock put on backwards. You don't know how frustrating that can be unless it's happened to you!

| Lions     | Rams        |          |          |

Unless it's happened to you!

Another frustrating practical joke is when some joker comes along with a bottle of glue and squirts some in your lock, which, as you can imagine, makes the lock impossible to open. It has to be cut off and a new one put on.

If you want your books and valuables, try to keep people from getting the combination of your lock. This applies to your P.E. locker as well as your hall locker. Block your combination from curious eyes.

PRIVILEGES FOR SENIORS?

The seniors here at Yo-Hi so far this year have had no special privileges. Many feel that after four years of hard work that there should be some slack given. From people polled we received these comments answering the question: "Do you feel the seniors of Yo-Hi should have any special privileges?"

Don Roper- I don't think we should have extra privileges but we should have the ones that seniors have had in the years before. Some I feel important are seniors getting to and from the assemblies first and some other stuff.

Mark Miyasaki- They should have more privileges than they have now since this is their last year in high school.

Sue Fader- Yeah, I guess so! 'Cause when I'm a senior I'll be expecting them.

Chrissy Stanton- Yes, because they're seniors and they should have special privileges because they have tried hard to get there.

Arlyne Tamashire- Definitely yes! I think that each senior class should have certain privileges because it encourages strong esprit de corps. I think it is wrong for us not to have senior privileges because of what others have done. For example keep the seating arrangement at assemblies and have more honors.

Paula Handley- We have come up through the ranks with all the previous Senior Classes and I don't feel that all classes should be the same.

David LaRus- After slaving for four years I feel that the Senior Class should have some privileges. After all what would a freshman have to look forward to?
